

We Love Hearing from You!

Do you have a blog or plan on making one during your trip?

Let us know if you plan on blogging about your experiences in Finland, as we are avid sharers on social media and love spreading stories about our Fulbrighters!

We do ask that if you discuss Fulbright or tag the Fulbright Center to please use the following statement (or something similar) to clarify your relationship with our program:

“This is a personal website. All views and information presented herein are my own and do not necessarily represent the views of the Finnish-American Fulbright Program and its sponsors.”

Here are some examples of Fulbrighter blogs: www.fulbright.fi/en/guide/grantee-blogs

Please let us know if a third party publishes a story about you or your work. We love keeping up with and sharing our Fulbrighters’ accomplishments on and offline.

Info on the Fulbright Center News

The Fulbright Center releases a bilingual magazine twice a year with stories highlighting Fulbright accomplishments, our Fulbrighters, events throughout the year and more!

You can find a digital copy published on our website here: www.fulbright.fi/en/fulbright-center/fulbright-center-news
